- Library Director’s report – Tricia Ford - copy attached
  - Angel Tree - $3,500 donated and 88 new books.
  - Footnotes is ready to be mailed.
  - Capitol projects. Sound and wiring community room for meetings etc.
  - The Town manager suggested hiring a company to look at the entire building and its needs and remodels
  - A company came by 12/17/2021 and took a look at the library and stated they will give an estimate to do that large scale planning. Will suggest a company (ies) to do the work. This is a look/see at possibilities. Tricia made a list of most urgent needs.
  - Truro Library received accreditation from state.

- Donations
  1. Staaterman Family

Director’s Report for Library Trustee Monthly Meeting
December 17, 2021
FY2022

Statistics: Attached.
Collection Development: No issues.
Building Status: Uncompleted tasks: repair lighting on porch and in front.
Staff: No issues. Maggie Hanelt is on vacation. Tricia will take a vacation at the end of January.
Activities/News:
The following the upcoming holiday closing schedule:
Friday December 24, 2021 in observance of Christmas Eve
Saturday December 25, 2021 in observance of Christmas
Friday December 31, 2021 in observance of New Year’s Eve
Saturday January 1, 2022 in observance of New Year’s Day

On December 3, Courtney Francis gave the Homeless Prevention Council our Angel Tree donations. The full amount donated is $3,500 and 88 new books that were donated by Sea Howl Bookshop in Orleans, The Brewster Bookstore, and Titcomb’s Bookshop in Sandwich contributed books.
The next issue of Footnotes is almost completed and will be mailed right after Christmas.
In discussing the upcoming FY23 library budget, Town Manager Tangeman suggested that instead of once again asking for $15,000 for a space planning consultant that is limited in scope, that we increase our “ask” for a space planning and engineering consultant to recommending solutions for all the inadequacies of the building. Jarrod Cabral and I are in the process of obtaining an estimate for what such an engineer would cost.
In the meantime, it is unfortunate that the capital requests will be postponed again but by keeping the big picture in mind we can proceed with more confidence and better avoid mistakes.
Library staff submitted a mini-grant request to the Truro Community Preservation Committee for funds to transform the back of the library into an edible forest path. The next step in the process is a public meeting in January.
Mass. Board of Library Commissioners were awarded the Truro Library accreditation on December 1, 2021.
We received two donations that are remarkable. The first is from the Staaterman family. Their relatives, Laura and Jack Johnson wrote an adorable kids book, The Leaky Whale, and each year the family donates the author remuneration to the library. In addition, we received $1,000 donation from Lois Lessard who requested that the funds purchase e-books and e-audiobooks.
Truro Central School students came to the library on Wednesday, December 15.
We had to cancel the first “Building Bridges, Not Walls” on December 4, but we already have enough attendees for the second session on January 15.
Upcoming Programs
In December we are getting a “taste” of in-person activity, and in January we will expand (COVID-permitting, of course). We begin December with the Truro Book Group discussing The Code Breaker: Jennifer Doudna, Gene Editing, and the Future of the Human Race by Walter Isaacson.

Respectfully submitted,

Tricia Ford
